Your job is to summarize the day's reading. Illustrate the day's reading and then retell it in your own words, using the blanks below. In the box, draw a picture to show what you read about.

Fill in the blanks to retell what you read about.

The first thing that happened is ________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

Then, ________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

The last thing that happened is ________________________________

________________________________________________________________________
Your job is to summarize the day's reading. When you finish reading, skim the text again. Then, fill in the story map below.

Character(s):

Setting:

Main events in order:

Problem(s) the main character is facing:

Possible solution(s):